Artificial Intelligence Regulation Across the World

With the widespread use of artificial intelligence (AI) comes a clear need for regulation. The Cornell China Center invites you to join us for Artificial Intelligence Regulation Across the World, a virtual event on AI regulation at local and global scales.

The European Union has set world standards with its General Data Protection Regulation, and is mulling over an Artificial Intelligence Act. China has developed a series of regulations and rules for algorithmic supervision and accountability, and in the U.S., a legal framework for regulating AI is slowly taking shape.

Do these worldwide regulations share any strategic similarities or common values? How is AI interacting with intellectual property rights? How can AI guidelines enhance accessibility for citizens with disabilities? This panel brings together distinguished theorists and practitioners to address AI questions critical to our world today.

Hosted by the Cornell China Center
Time: Friday, May 27, 2022
8:00–9:30 a.m. EDT / 2:00–3:30 p.m. Geneva / 8:00–9:30 p.m. Beijing

Speakers

Rostam J. Neuwirth

Rostam J. Neuwirth Professor of Law and Head of the Department of Global Legal Studies at the Faculty of Law of the University of Macau

"The EU Artificial Intelligence Act and the Subliminal Manipulation of Human Mind and Behavior"

Xiaoping Wu

Counsellor in the Intellectual Property, Government Procurement and Competition Division of the World Trade Organization

"Reflections on Intellectual Property Related Policy, and Legal Issues Arising from the Interaction of Artificial Intelligence and Intellectual Property Rights"

Rui Guo

Associate Professor of Law, Institute of Law and Technology Researcher, and Director of Center for Social Responsibility and Governance at Renmin University of China

"Stereotypes and AI Fairness"

Linghan Zhang

Professor at the China University of Political Science and Law, Visiting Scholar at Cornell Law School

"Algorithmic Supervision in China: Filing for Records, Examination, and Accountability"

Moderators

Xingzhong Yu

Anthony W. and Lulu C. Wang Professor of Chinese Law, Cornell Law School

Ying Hua

Director of the Cornell China Center

Event registration link:

https://cornell.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_mn52MXm7TuqfWxSHDooEXg

Scan QR code to register   Cornell China Center